

Individual Therapy & Assessments

Available face-to-face or via telepractice.

Autism Queensland's team of professionals have expertise in therapy and support services for young children, adolescents, and adults on the autism spectrum.

The following services are available at AQ and through telepractice:

- Speech & Language Pathology
- Occupational Therapy
- Psychology.

Speech & Language Pathology

Speech pathologists play a key role in helping individuals who have difficulties with communication. They can also assist those people who have difficulty with mealtimes, including sensitivities to foods and drinks, or safely swallowing food and drink.

Occupational Therapy

Occupational therapy facilitates the development, improvement or maintenance of skills. Occupational therapists provide alternative ways of performing a task; or modifies the environment to enable an individual to participate in their everyday life activities.

Psychology

Psychologists can support individuals on the autism spectrum and their families in many ways including helping to manage emotions, relationships, attachment, social skills, behaviours of concern and mental health disorders. Our psychologists can also conduct psychometric assessments.

We provide assessment & intervention in areas including:

- Communication
- Behaviour support
- Sensory processing
- Motor & play skills
- Mealtime challenges
- Anxiety
- Toileting
- Social and friendship skills
- Daily living skills.
