CONSULTANCY SERVICES

AQ's Inclusive Education Consultants work with school leadership, teachers, families and students to increase inclusion for autistic and neurodivergent people.

We support culture change, coach educators, mentor students and families, educate on evidence-informed best practice, lead by example, mediate increased positive relationships and more. AQ's consultants can:

- Provide direct support for students with learning differences.
- Provide coaching and mentoring of school staff.
- Assist in the development of Individual Plans and Positive Behaviour Support Plans.
- Assist with planning curriculum adjustments that align with the NCCD requirements.
- Design, implement and monitor environmental adjustments in collaboration with school staff.
- Provide education to the school about autism, neurodivergent learners and universal design for learning.
- Collaborate with school-based therapists and psychologists.
- Support parents in understanding their child's specific learning needs.
