AQ is facilitating group sessions with neurodivergent Queenslanders working in the digital sector.

➔ These groups will enable participants to:

- Increase their understanding of themselves and their neurodivergence.
- Develop their identity within the digital workforce sector.
- Engage meaningfully in digital employment.
- Develop or improve connectedness with others in the industry.
- Develop strategies to manage wellbeing, and increase self-confidence and self-advocacy.

➔ What do the sessions involve?

- Each group will run for one hour per week over 10 consecutive weeks.
- The sessions will be facilitated by a therapist/educator and neurodivergent mentor.
- Each group will include participants working in a range of digital areas and following different career paths.
- Groups will be delivered online.
- A dedicated, secure portal will be established to enable participants to connect out of group times.
