

Service Overview

Inclusion Supports

Our experienced consultants provide individualised, strengths-based, and neurodiversity-affirming support to help participants of all ages build skills, confidence, and capacity to achieve their goals, strengthen social and community participation, and develop greater independence and inclusion.

Our consultants will:

- Apply evidence-informed strategies to develop personalised goals.
- Collaborate to identify and overcome barriers to inclusion.
- Build capacity and create opportunities to exercise choice and control.
- Work closely with the professionals supporting you or your child to ensure a coordinated approach.
- Share inclusive strategies that support social and community participation, engagement, and meaningful connections.
- Build functional capacity through increased independence, self-advocacy, and skill development.
- Support the development of practical skills for participation across home, education, employment, recreation, and community settings.
- Explore supports, strategies, and resources to assist with successful transitions and future participation opportunities.

Statewide delivery (short or long term): Available at select AQ centres across Queensland (service availability may vary), within the community, at an education setting, or statewide via Telepractice. Waitlists and fees apply, NDIS funding may be used (if applicable).
